Pianos at the McSmith Music House for $100, Greenville, S. C.
There will probably be more persons in Anderson on the 27th of this month than were here at one time before.

A new grist mill has been put in order at the "James Burriss Old Mill" site, southwest of this place, and is run by Mr. F. A. Daniels. See advertisement elsewhere.

Governor Hampton will speak in Anderson on Wednesday the 27th inst. Every person in the County should endeavor to be present. The ladies are especially invited.

The small grain crops in this County are reported as being behind their usual growth at this season of the year, but since the summer-like weather has set in they are improving very much.

All able-bodied men between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years of age are required to work the public roads, under the orders of the County Commissioners, given through their overseers.

We understand that the Temperance Standard, heretofore published at Prosperity, has been removed to Williamston in this County. We hope this report is true, but are not prepared to say that it is.

The Supper for the Palmetto Band will be given by the ladies of Anderson in the Masonic Hall on next Tuesday night. Admission, 25 cents. We bespeak for them a large attendance on that evening.

Our farmers are busily engaged preparing for the coming crop, though they are somewhat behind on account of the protracted rains. The weather is good now, however, and they are making good use of it.

Our young friend, Mr. Samuel J. Wakefield, who has been in attendance at the Baltimore Business College, returned home last week. Mr. Wakefield is an energetic young man, and we wish him success in life.

Mr. James M. Payne has on hand a large lot of harness of all descriptions, which he invites the public to call and examine. He is prepared to furnish the members of the military companies with anything in his line.

The McSmith Music Store, of Greenville, has our thanks for a copy of the song, "Whisper you'll be mine, love." It is one of those many pretty vocal and instrumental pieces that may be purchased at this extensive and cheap music house.

An amateur company will render the drama, "The Last Leaf," in Masonic Hall in this place on Wednesday evening, the 27th inst., for the benefit of the Palmetto Band. It is a worthy object, and should be liberally patronized by our citizens.

We had the pleasure of a call on Tuesday last from Dr. Pitt Mitchell, who has just graduated at the Medical College of Baltimore. Dr. Mitchell will locate near Greenville, and will doubtless receive the patronage of his merit deserves.

At a meeting of the Pendleton Red Shirts, held on the 23rd of February, it resolved itself into a Flying Artillery Company. There are now fifty-two members, and if they can get uniformed in time, will attend the parade at Anderson on the 27th inst.

The Greenville Guards, under command of Capt. C. H. Sloan, will visit Anderson on the occasion of the military review on the 27th inst. Their presence will be an additional feature of interest in the parade. Our citizens will be pleased to have them visit Anderson.

Col. A. M. Speights, the founder of the Greenville Daily News, and the popular proprietor of the Greenville Hotel, has started a new paper in the Mountain City, called the Speights Daily News. Our office is favored with its visits, and we welcome the Colonel upon his return to the newspaper fraternity.

All who have joined the Artillery Company at this place are requested to meet promptly at the hall of the Palmetto Rifle men, over Bleckley, Brown & Co.'s store, on Saturday next, at 2 o'clock p. m. The Company is expected to organize at this time and make preparations for the coming review.

Governor Hampton, Lieutenant-Governor Simpson, General Moore, Connor and McGowan, Judge Mackay, Col. Hoyt, Speaker Sheppard and others have been invited to address the political meeting on the 27th. The Governor and several others of the distinguished speakers of the State will be present.

Mr. Z. D. Chambliss, the proprietor of the Emporium of Fashion, announces to the public that Mrs. H. J. Welch has assumed charge of the millinery and mantmaking department of the Emporium. The ladies are invited to call and examine the goods, and leave their orders for work at the Emporium.

Miss Lizzie Williams, the popular proprietress of the Ladies' Store, is at this time in New York making purchases for the Spring trade. Her stock of ladies' dress and fancy goods will be extensive and complete. Her old customers and the public generally are invited to call and see for themselves.

Franklin Garrison, the colored man who killed Robert Green, a colored boy, near Williamston, in this County, on the 3d inst., in a quarrel about a pot, surrendered himself to Sheriff McConnell on last Tuesday morning, and is now in jail. We learn that he claims that the killing was done in self-defense.

Mr. W. W. Smith, of the Centerville neighborhood, says his cows increased a quart a day in milk from being pastured two or three days. Persons who have their pastures prepared are much pleased with the law. It is, however, a hardship on those who have no pasture, but will in the course of time be able to remedy this.

Col. R. W. Simpson, we are glad to state, has recovered from his recent attack of fever, and returned on last Monday to his legislative duties. Col. Simpson is one of the most efficient and influential members of the present General Assembly, and we regret that sickness compelled his absence for the past two weeks.

A heavy hail storm passed above and on the upper edge of Pendleton on last Tuesday morning. It was terrific for a while, many of the stones reaching the size of partridge eggs, but very little damage was done, as there are no crops which could be effected by it. The region around Pendleton is becoming famous for hail storms.

The military is becoming a subject of general interest in this County now, and the election for regimental officers bids fair to attract considerable attention for a while. The ticket nominated in many of the counties for the Western regiment formally opens the military campaign for the County. The nominees are well known gentlemen, and if elected will make excellent officers.

Mr. Martin Bird, an old and respected citizen of Martin township, fell dead while ploughing in a field near his residence on last Friday morning. He seemed as well as usual at breakfast, and ploughed about three rounds after going to the field. It is supposed that heart disease was the cause of his sudden death. He leaves a wife to mourn his loss.

One day last week a colored man named Gus Hardy went down into Mrs. Jolly's mill, near Fair Play, for the purpose of cleaning it up, and before he finished the walls caved in upon him, completely filling up the bottom of the well. All present thought he was certainly killed, but when they reached the bottom they found that the curbing had fallen in such manner as to protect the man from serious injury, and he was rescued with only a few cuts and bruises.

The advertisement of Mr. Wm. Sumner, of the Pomaria Nurseries, appears elsewhere, and our readers are invited to give it their attention. Mr. Sumner exhibited a magnificent display of fruits at the Anderson Fair last August, and we bespeak for him the liberal patronage of our people. His nursery is a State enterprise, and should be supported in preference to other nurseries outside of the State. His trees and plants are reliable, and persons dealing with him can confide in receiving honorable treatment.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mr. Moses Dean, which occurred at this residence about seven miles south of this place on last Tuesday morning, after a long and painful illness. Mr. Dean was one of the oldest citizens in Anderson County, being at the time of his death about eighty-five years of age, and throughout his whole life was distinguished for high character, honesty and integrity of purpose.

Up to within a few years back, he was remarkably active and industrious, but his failing health had rendered him unfit for active labor or exercise for the last four or five years. He leaves an aged wife and a large family of children, grand children and great grand children, together with a large circle of other relatives and friends to mourn his loss. His remains were interred in the Cross Roads cemetery on Wednesday evening.

THE MILITIA.
The officers of the several military companies of the County met Gen. Humphreys in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday morning, and consulted together about the coming review and other matters connected with the work of organizing the militia.

It was decided to divide the County by a line running nearly North and South for the purpose of forming regiments, so that in the Eastern Division are comprised the Townships of Brushy Creek, Gaffney, Williamston, Hopewell, Belpen, Broadway, Honea River and Martin; and in the Western Division are the Townships of Fork, Pendleton, Centerville, Rock Mills, Savannah, Varnhagen, Hall and Corner.

It was decided to have elections for regimental officers in the Eastern Division on the fourth Saturday in April, and in the Western Division on the second Saturday in April. The necessary orders will be issued at the proper time.

After talking over various matters of detail, the meeting adjourned.

SUSPENSION OF BUSINESS ON 27TH.
The merchants of Anderson have signed the following agreement, which explains itself. Persons who expect to attend the military review on the 27th inst., would do well to read it, and remember that the stores will be closed on that day:

ANDERSON, S. C., March 12, 1878.
We, the undersigned merchants of Anderson, agree to close our stores on the 27th inst., that being the day appointed by General Moore for general inspection of military organizations in the County. The stores are to be closed on the night of 26th inst. and remain closed until morning of the 27th.

WILLIAMSTON, S. C., March 3, 1878.
MR. EDITOR: Will you allow me a small space in your valuable paper to call attention to a matter which is just now being very generally discussed in our quiet little village?

The Town Council of this place have recently made a partial tax levy, which we think is unreasonable, unjust and illegal. They have taxed the real estate 3 mills, the utmost farthing allowed by the charter, and have exempted all other property.

We think this tax is unjust, because it exempts a majority of the men of the place, and those men who do not hesitate to vote in every municipal election or to claim the protection of the town when needed. Now, sir, we do not believe in a property qualification to vote, but we do think that every voter, be he ever so poor, should pay his part of the tax which is levied to sustain and beautify a town in which he now enjoys rights and liberty which those who are now called upon to pay can claim. Three mills on the real estate will raise about $300, and had they taxed all the property, personal, and, within the corporate limits subject to taxation, $400 could have been raised, and we have no doubt could have been used to advantage. We are not disposed to grumble at the tax—it is the principle of the thing for which we contend. Had they levied an ad valorem tax, as the charter explicitly says they shall, there is not a good citizen in town who would have hesitated a moment. Although this is, we think, more money than is really necessary at this time, and although we think our Council should have remembered that at this time money is very scarce, yet I for one am perfectly willing to pay it, provided everybody else does the same.

Your correspondent happens to own a small amount of land in town, and consequently will pay some tax while there are a number of men in town who are worth five times as much as I am, some of whom sell from five to twenty thousand dollars worth of goods each year, who pay nothing at all into the "city coffers." They do not expect it—those of them who are rightly disposed want to bear their part, and they are not obliged to the Council for it.

A majority of the men on the Council are my particular friends, and I do hope they will consider this article in the spirit in which it is written. Thinking that possibly they had not given the matter as much consideration as they might have done, I have ventured to point out these few facts. I am disposed to consider this last as a true solution. We know that it is human nature to be a little stubborn occasionally—a kind of a dislike to give up a stand once taken—but we know the Council is composed of gentlemen of worth and intelligence, and men who will gallantly give up a point when convinced. If I have, in any measure, helped to bring about this desirable result, I will feel threefold recompensed. There is some dissatisfaction caused by the Council having exempted themselves from taxation. Although we doubt its legality, and think it is a dangerous precedent to establish, yet I would not serve on the Council for that amount, and am perfectly willing to allow them so much, and I think they will agree with me. In conclusion, if I have misstated any fact or facts, or if I have misrepresented the Council in any way, and they will call my attention to the error, I will gladly correct.

HONEA PATH.

Married, on the evening of the 10th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. W. A. Clarke, Miss Agnes Wilson and Mr. Geo. M. Greer. The line fence has been put up and the people are now enjoying the benefits of the fence law. A heavy gale passed over this place on Sunday afternoon last, doing some damage to fencing, &c. Dr. Hudgens had two wagons damaged by the wind, and Mrs. W. R. Greer, a house partly blown down. The farmers are buying Guano freely, and from present prospects something over average sales will be made.

ATTENTION, RED SHIRTS.

The members of the Company are requested to meet in the square at Pendleton on the morning of the 27th inst., at 7 a. m. sharp, to attend the parade at Anderson, C. H. on that day.

TO THE COLORED PEOPLE OF ANDERSON COUNTY.

FELLOW-CITIZENS: We promised you when we wrote our last letter of advice concerning Gen. Hampton's administration, which was then in its infancy, that we would, when opportunity presented itself, and circumstances and time demanded, write another letter of advice informing you as to the success and general results of his administration. We think this is an opportune moment for such a letter. You doubtless remember of our having remarked that if Gen. Hampton carried out his pledges and promises which he made on the hustings during the last campaign, and as he commenced to do when we wrote, that he would be not only the white man's Governor, but also the colored man's Governor—the Governor of the people—regardless of party or partisan spirit. Well, we are pleased to make the assertion that he has translated his pledges and promises into stern realities, so as to make them plain and visible to the most sanguine and fastidious. He has not been extreme in any measure which vitally concerned the people; but on the contrary has been liberal beyond measure to that class of persons who have been his strong opponents; and has administered law and order with an even hand of justice. In short, we do not think any colored or white person could have any hard words for Gen. Hampton's administration. He has certainly gone far beyond our expectations. No conscientious and sane person can say that his administration has been intolerant. Nothing like a disregard to duty has been indulged in by him. There has been wonderful improvement upon previous administrations. The General reminds one of a noble and modern Solon supplanting a modern Draco. When Athens was shaken from centre to circumference by the outrageous laws of the latter, whose statutes were so severe that they were said to be indeed the work of a dragon, and to be written not with ink but with blood, the former, one of the wisest and best men of Athens, commanded the confidence of all classes of his fellow-citizens by his great wisdom and integrity, and was chosen or made Solon for life, with unlimited power to alter the existing state of things. His first object was to improve the condition of the poor classes and debtors, not merely by alleviating present distress, but by removing its principal cause. To this end Solon enacted many wholesome and feasible laws, and abolished all the unnecessary and repugnant laws of Draco.

We believe that the General, like Solon, is doing everything possible to please all classes of his fellow-citizens, and to destroy all unnecessary laws and enact good laws. There may be a few whom he has not pleased or satisfied, both white and colored; but we sincerely believe we are speaking the sentiments of the masses of the colored people when we say that they are now undeceived in the administration of Gen. Hampton. There are very few that would not agree that the administration has been mild and conciliatory in its various forms. Yes, any class of people can enjoy life, liberty and prosperity with such a man as Gen. Hampton for their leader. We think he is unchangeable. It seems that peace stalks abroad in our land. The midnight murderer and assassin are heard and felt no more. All banished evils are gone from our land. Now to do things are due to some of the things brought about recently, and it does not take a great deal of common sense to discover the cause. It appears to us that we have not met with any serious disadvantages in the present state of affairs; on the contrary we have been benefited, where in many of us fail to see just now, but a future day will reveal more plainly to us. Of course, according to history, all political changes are accompanied with many evils, but these changes which necessarily cause many to dislike political changes while they really benefit the masses. It is wholesome to Commonwealth to have frequent changes. A perpetual political party would be the result of untold and unknown misery, confusion and bloodshed to any people. Men, who are permanently entrusted with the financial affairs of our Commonwealth, are most likely to forget and disregard the vital and immediate wants and interests of the people whom they represent. Consequently the common people suffer many inconveniences. Hence the great necessity of political changes. It is a historical fact that no one party ever existed permanently. Leaders would get careless, and thereby necessitate a change.

Now, fellow-citizens, in the face of all these facts and changes which, as we have already observed, have resulted in lasting benefits to our Commonwealth, are we to array ourselves in opposition to the Democratic party in the coming canvass, or unite with them in electing good and true men to office? If we are to pursue the former proposition, we venture the assertion that every single effort made to regain the strength and union of the Republican party will fall to the surface and avail us nothing; but if, after the latter, we certainly will show the true spirit of our manhood, and we will not regret that bitter spirit which is the natural outgrowth of contending and opposing elements. We have no more Democratic party, we can oppose the Democrats for any in the future, just so long as the Democrats keep their places, such men as they now have. We cannot dare say that the Hampton administration is a reproach or impeachable concern. If we were to, we would be uttering falsehood. Many speak of reorganizing the Republican party immediately in this State. Why, you might as well talk about exhuming and re-organizing into army array the soldiers of Alexander the Great, who have long since died. If we had any good reason or cause for organizing against the present administration—and we hold that we cannot produce a single good and lawful reason for such a line of policy—simply because we are at peace with the whites at present, and we sincerely hope will continue so. We must observe, my colored friends, that we, as a race, are less able to stand and struggle and contend in political battles than the whites. We are not skilled and disciplined in political affairs as they are, and consequently, we being the weaker party, will fall to the surface in all race questions or confusion. Therefore, we should guard against being the aggressors or inviting and encouraging opposition from those with whom we cannot cope.

It strikes us forcibly that the true interests of whites and blacks are identical, and we must learn to dwell together in peace and quiet, and neither should strive for the mastery of the situation, but all unite upon a common platform. Some say that if we yield to the Democrats and not contend continuously for our rights they will monopolize all the offices, and allow us no representation in County or State. We labor under no such impression. It is our candid opinion that where there are competent colored men who have established for themselves a good reputation and an honest respect as citizens, and are favored with good accomplishments and liberal advantages in obtaining an education, that the whites will favor the elevation to office any such characters when time and circumstances present themselves, or when there is a general opinion on the part of the colored people to unite with them on all interests concerning the Commonwealth. We think if we unite with them they will certainly allow us representation in proportion to our population. Some say let us not make any compromise with the Democrats, and struggle as we can. This is all nonsense and absurdity. The outrageous conduct and disgraceful transactions of the leaders of the Republican party during its administration, especially in this State, as reported by the Committee of Investigation, are an insult to all christendom, and a fearful shock to sensibility. We cannot denounce and disapprove of such dirty transactions as detailed by the Committee, any better way than by compromising and uniting with the Democratic party in support of good and honest men. Some would say that they do not wish any aid from the colored element, as they can now redeem the State to completion without such aid. This may be true, but it would not justify us to stand quietly by and make no public demonstrations in favor of an honest government. Such action would be an insult to our manhood, and favor the impression that we are unworthy of citizenship. It is true that we supported the Republican party, whose fabric has crumbled into oblivion by the misdeeds of its leaders, who were unknown by the mass of colored people until unearthed by the Investigating Committee. But we can now make amends while the opportunity is presented.

Now since we know of these gigantic corruptions which were perpetrated by the leaders of our party, let it be a sense of our duty to make strides toward honesty, and throw corrupt motives in the background. Some would say let us stand to the remains of our party or go down with the ship into oblivion. This would probably be correct under some circumstances, but not under such circumstances as now surround us. If the captain and a part of the crew should, by carelessness, mismanagement and corrupt motives, allow a ship-wreck, or see destruction staring them in the face, when such could be prevented, and is not, why, of course, the passengers and other part of the crew are justified in forsaking and abandoning the ship and save themselves if possible, and let all the wreck and destruction which they have justly deserved it. We are placed in a fearful predicament by the actions of our leaders, and must do something to show to the world that we are desirous of honest government. The question is asked by some, how are we to do these things? By placing ourselves in such a position as to vote with the Democratic party in their primary elections. Many of us are desirous of supporting good and honest Democrats, and have a voice in choosing men to represent us in the various departments of the government. We sincerely believe that we express the popular sentiment of the colored people when we say we are willing to unite with the whites, believing they are perfectly willing to allow us at least one representative in this County. We hope the Democratic leaders will give immediate consideration upon the subject of allowing us some representation, in order that we may know what would be the result of our co-operation with them in the coming campaign. We invite suggestions from any of our white citizens who are likely to know the sentiment of their party. We have been induced to give expression to the foregoing sentiment, because of your interrogative put to us soliciting our opinion. We ask no person to adopt our sentiment who believe by so doing they will signify any innate principles or lower their dignity, which, in our opinion, could not be the case.

GREEN D. WILLIAMS.
P. S.—Parson as for not mentioning, in the body of our letter, the fact that the free and common schools are now in operation as never before. Both white and colored teachers are employed by the Trustees, who are all white, without any discrimination. The school officers, from the Commissioner down to the Trustees, seem to be doing everything possible for the colored as well as for the whites. We hear of no colored teacher being refused of a position on the account of color or previous condition of servitude. We remind you also that the two mill tax, for school purposes, was ratified and passed by the Hampton government. All of which go to show that Hampton means equal justice to all classes, irrespective of party spirit.

An Astonishing Fact.

A large proportion of the American people are today dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason why it is only the most timid and the most suspicious, take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. It relieves the worst cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and liver complaint. It has been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 10 cents to try it. It relieves the worst cases of indigestion, dyspepsia and liver complaint. Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent.

Next Town.

Ahead where they loan you a dollar and chalk it down till to-morrow, for a bottle of MERRILL'S HEPATIN for the Liver. The enormous expense of importing the ingredients of this great medicine into this country, is why our Druggists, Simpson, Reid & Co., sell but one sample bottle to the same person for ten cents; but as there are fifty doses in the large size bottles, it is cheap enough after all at two cents per dose, for a medicine that has never been known to fail in the cure of dyspepsia and all diseases of the liver. It is all now the cure of liver complaint when taken as directed, no matter of how long standing the disease. It cures Chills and Fever, Constipation of the bowels, Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. Sample bottles ten cents; regular size, fifty doses, $1.00.
